SHE'S A STAR: Lainey Miller, winner of the Luton's Best Adult Achiever award, is presented with her certificate by Andrew Castle

Brave Lainey's one of the Best! Mum is honoured at ceremony

COURAGEOUS Lainey Miller was honoured for her bravery at a ceremony celebrating Luton's Best.

Ms Miller won the Adult Achiever category for her work as chairman of Autism Bedfordshire over the last 15 years.

Over the years Lainey has worked tirelessly to raise awareness of families with autism and highlight the huge difficulties that they face.

She has had to overcome many personal hurdles, including caring for her son who has severe learning difficulties, and has campaigned for change and is the driving force for her charity.

Lainey was one of 17 heroes who were recognised for their community achievements.

The awards, now in their third year, received more than 400 nominations.

Sponsored by Luton on Sunday and our sister paper Luton & Dunstable Express, the glittering ceremony was held at Luton Hoo Hotel on Thursday.

Former tennis star and GMTV presenter Andrew Castle was the compere for the night, while Olympic gold medallist Etienne Stott was the guest speaker.

Entertainment came from Cassius Henry, who reached the live finals of the BBC1 show 'The Voice', and local singer and songwriter Angee Messiah.

Child sex offender alarm

BY LUI STRACCIA

lui.straccia@lutononsunday.co.uk

AN ANGRY 'whistleblower' conducted a leaflet-drop to make parents aware of a child sex offender mother who enters school premises every day to pick up her child.

The unknown person last week distributed handouts in the area of Waulud Bank Primary School, in Marsh Farm, about the woman.

The leaflets detailed the mother's four convictions - one count of engaging in a sex activity in the presence of a child under 16 with a person 18 or above, and three counts of making indecent photos of a child.

In September the mother was given a 12 month jail sentence suspended for 18 months, ordered to undertake 200 hours of unpaid work, given a five-year sexual offences prevention order, disqualified from working with children and placed on the Sex Offenders Register for ten years.

She was found guilty on all counts after trial having pleaded not guilty to all charges.

While Luton Borough Council is responsible for ensuring the safety of any child directly involved in the case, it is for Bedfordshire Police to decide whether or not to alert the school on the grounds of public safety.

After that it is for the school alone to decide whether to inform anyone of the parent's convictions.

In this case, Luton on Sunday understands the school was informed by the police of the parent's convictions.

However, neither the police nor the council would confirm this.

LoS has been unable to establish whether the school informed parents of the mother's convictions.

But one person, whose identity is not known, decided to take matters into their own hands and embarked on a campaign giving out leaflets to residents in the Wauluds Bank Drive and Purley Centre area of Marsh Farm naming the mother.

Also mentioned on the handouts were the mother's convictions, along with Waulud Bank Primary School, which her child attends.

LoS knows the mother's identity but has chosen not to publish it.

We contacted Waulud Bank Primary in a bid to ask whether it had informed its children's parents as to the mother's convictions, but we were referred to Luton Borough Council for a comment.

In a statement, the council told LoS: 'As you are aware, we don't discuss individual cases.'

"But we can discuss this type of situation in the abstract - and in a case such as this we would expect the school to act in accordance with police advice in regards to informing parents.'

A police spokeswoman said: "The Bedfordshire Police Public Protection Unit regulate people who are on the Sex Offenders Register throughout the county to ensure public safety."

"These offenders are dealt with on a case by case basis."

"The force do not discuss details of individual cases publicly but does share information through partners."

"However, there may be occasions when a disclosure is made to a school or other organisation when necessary to ensure public safety is maintained."

Just two per cent of 'Work' scheme applicants actually find employment

BY CARL MUNGAZI
carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

ONLY one in 50 jobless who joined the Government's Work Programme have actually found work, according to statistics revealed this week.

The Work Programme was introduced by the Department for Work and Pensions in June last year as part of the Government's bid to reduce the rate of unemployment and boost the ailing economy.

However, despite 3,380 unemployed people in Luton signing up to the scheme, only two per cent managed to secure a 'job outcome'.

This definition, set by the Government, refers to somebody who is in employment for 26 weeks or longer, or just 13 weeks for those who are considered to be in the harder to help groups.

The programme came under fire earlier this week from Gavin Shuker, the Labour MP for Luton South, who criticised it for 'leaving behind many of our young people who are striving to get that first job.' He said: "The statistics show the appalling truth that this Government's actions are failing people who are trying to get into work to support themselves and their family."

"When this was introduced, an absolute minimum performance level was set at 5.5 per cent."

"But we now see that the scheme is only managing to reach two per cent with two in every 100 applications gaining employment not only in Luton, but across the country."

"Of the 80 who gained employment, only ten of those were in the 18-24 bracket."

"The Government is leaving behind many of our young people who are striving to get that first job to pay their way through college, or desperately trying for the opportunity to make that first step in to a career."

"At a time when more people are falling into the poverty bracket, we see that this Government's action just isn't working."

CONTRITE: Mr Chick, who castigated the local press at the awards

Council boss apologises for local newspaper 'jibes'

A TOWN Hall chief has said sorry for comments made towards the local press at an awards ceremony.

At Luton's Best 2012 Awards on Thursday evening, Luton Borough Council's corporate director for Environment, Colin Chick, criticised local newspapers for publishing 'negative stories' about the town.

In a speech to more than 300 guests, including those from Luton on Sunday which sponsored the awards, Mr Chick said the town's local newspapers are 'too quick to write negative stories' about initiatives including the city status bid and the Love Luton Festival.

Mike Richardson, managing director of Iliffe News and Media Central, said: "I was very surprised to hear Colin Chick putting newspapers down when we were in attendance as a media partner and one of the main sponsors of the event. In fact, LoS has been quite the opposite, supporting many local events and initiatives, including his own, so Mr Chick should be more selective with his jibes, rather than lumping all newspapers together."

After the event, Mr Chick said: "I apologise if there was any confusion about the way my comments were interpreted. They were not directed at LoS."

GRAFFITI FOUND AT CEMETERY
DUNSTABLE Cemetery has been targeted vandals who left graffiti on the premises.

Trees and paths on the site in West Street, were daubed with the tags of the culprits using spray paint.

John Crawley, head of Grounds and Environment, said: "It is disappointing, but we believe that it is now under control."

"The graffiti was painted onto paths and trees, but at no point were the memorials targeted."

GANG ATTACKS YOUTH CYCLIST
A TEENAGER was left with seven cuts to his face and body after being hit over the head with a chair and stabbed several times by a gang of men in an attempted robbery.

The 19-year-old victim was cycling in the Dumfries/Stanley area of Luton at around 4.49pm on November 22, after having collected a takeaway, when five men approached him and asked for his bicycle.

When the teen refused the group attacked him before slashing his tyres and fleeing the scene.

STUDENTS IN MARKET TRADING
COLLEGE students swapped the classroom for market stalls as part of a work experience initiative that saw them rake in £2,157.05 over two days.

The budding entrepreneurs came from Luton Sixth Form College and from Denbigh High School to take part in the annual market stalls events last week for people on the BTEC enterprise and entrepreneurship course.

They were given pitches at The Mall by Town & Country Markets and a donation from businessman Mohammed Nadeem.

Carnival could be the next one hit by cuts

BY LAUREN ARCHELL
lauren.archell@lutononsunday.co.uk

THE trust that looks after the library service, museums, and events including Luton Carnival is facing dramatic cuts to its budget.

Luton Cultural Services Trust (LCST), which spends £5.3m a year, could see its budget reduced by £1.8m by 2015.

A Luton Borough Council agenda for tomorrow's executive committee meeting details the anticipated scale of the cutbacks, adding that there are 'likely to be reduced staffing levels and redundancies across LCST' as a result.

The Trust currently spends £2.8m a year on the present library service, which consists of the town centre-based Luton Central Library, three libraries in Leagrave, Marsh Farm and Wigmore, four community libraries in Bury Park, Lewsey Farm, Stopsley and Sundon Park, the mobile library and the home library service.

Although any plans for a reduction in service would have to go to consultation, it has been suggested that two of the strategic libraries could be closed completely, with the Central Library also shutting for one day a week.

The council has to provide a library service by law, but the legislation does not state what level of service is required to meet the statutory requirement.

At present, LCST provides a wide range of performance and music through the Hat Factory and Library Theatre, as well as delivering major events on behalf of the council, including Carnival event production, and annual fireworks and St George's Day events.

If cuts to the council's budget were to go ahead, the Trust would have to operate a reduced arts programme, and compete to bring in external funding.

LCST also contributes £1.05m a year to run Stockwood Discovery Centre and Wardown Park Museum, as well as a schools service.

Budget reductions would mean the museums would be forced to find ways at staying open at a lower cost.

Suggestions include finding more donations, and charging for temporary exhibitions and events.

Officers would then report back with the findings of the consultation in May.

FUNDING: The carnival could be one event hit by budget cuts

Car allowance spending is revealed

MORE than £2 million in the past two years has been spent on car allowances for council staff.

Figures from a Freedom of Information Request seen by Luton on Sunday show that £2,150,000 was spent by Luton Borough Council in the period of 2010-2012 on car allowances.

The payments were made to council officers on 'essential' and 'casual' car allowances schemes.

In 2010/11 766 officers on the 'essential' scheme received £965,299.53 in allowances and in 2011/12 the number of officers on the same scheme dropped to 730 with the payments also falling to £891,095.67.

The officers on the 'casual' scheme in 2010/11 was 1,588, with payments at £185,879.26. In 2011/12 the officer number was at 1,503 and payments at £108,639.

The council's pay policy statement states that employees earning between £35,430 and £59,546 are entitled to car allowance of £3,203 per year.

Heads of service are on £3,990, corporate directors on £4,615 and the chief executive on £5,618.

A spokesman for the council said: "We appreciate that allowances, which are paid to certain staff to reimburse them for costs incurred as part of their day-to-day duties, are a concern to some people, so we would like to reassure residents that we are in discussions with trade unions on a range of pay terms and conditions."

Nurse leaves child with swollen hand

BY CARL MUNGAZI

carl.mungazi@lutonsunday.co.uk

A THREE-YEAR-OLD was left with a swollen hand after a senior nurse wrongly injected antibiotics into his hand tissue instead of his veins.

Herbie Kane, of Dunstable, was taken to Luton & Dunstable Hospital by his parents Dean Kane and Louise Rowles after having a fit.

On arrival he was given a high dose of IV antibiotics as well as a series of blood tests and a lumbar puncture.

But during a follow-up visit to the hospital his hand swelled up after being given a further round of antibiotics.

Since then Mr Kane and his wife have written a complaint to the hospital. They received a reply last week, but they said they are unhappy with it.

Mr Kane said: "When we first went to the hospital we were happy with the treatment Herbie received from the other nurses.

SWELLING: Herbie's hand after the hospital treatment

"On our visit there the nurse gave him the antibiotics and he started screaming in pain.

"Her colleague walked by and she talking to her about something unrelated while our son was crying in pain.

"Me and my wife couldn't believe it. She had wrongly put it into his hand tissue and when she saw that something was wrong she stopped and tried squeezing his hand to make it better.

"We wrote a letter to the hospital last month and their response is unacceptable.

"Someone in her position should know what she is doing.

"We want reassurance that she will go on some sort of training to make sure this never happens again to another child."

In a response to the complaint, Tanith Ellis, the L&D's children's service general manager, said the nurse 'was extremely sorry for any distress she may have caused during this time and will reflect on the care she gave Herbie on that occasion.'

A spokesman for the hospital said: "The quality of care and the safety and comfort of our patients are top priorities for the L&D Hospital.

"Squeezing the affected area, in this case Herbie's hand, is the correct clinical procedure to follow when a the fluid from an intravenous injection goes into the tissue instead of the vein.

"Although this can be uncomfortable it needs to be done immediately to prevent tissue damage by dispersing the fluid.

"Our paediatric team always try to minimise pain and discomfort for children and the L&D Hospital has formally apologised to the Herbie's parents for any distress caused."

Council seeks more savings

PROPOSALS in a review of the Community Development Service could see community centres run by a third sector organisation.

Councillors at Luton Borough Council will meet tomorrow to discuss whether or not to start a consultation looking at the possibility of giving a local third sector organisation the responsibility of managing 12 community centres.

The Community Development Service operates a number of schemes at an annual cost of £3.05 million, with £1.26 million being spent on running the community centres.

A council document states that transferring this responsibility to a 'suitable local third sector partner organisation' would mean a reduction in costs for council.

This report says the organisation would take advantage of donations from Luton Airport and other sources of financial support.

If accepted in the future, the plans would affect 63 staff who would have to be transferred under TUPE arrangements.

A council spokesman said: "It is very important to emphasise that the Executive is not being asked to make a decision on the future of the service. They will consider whether the council will undertake a detailed 90 day consultation looking at the feasibility of this and other options."

CRIME: The Park Street Campus has seen an increase in crime

Town centre campus thefts are on the rise

MORE than 70 offences have been committed at the University of Bedfordshire's Luton campus over the last two years. A Freedom of Information request submitted by Luton On Sunday revealed that there were 40 recorded cases of theft and handling stolen goods at the Park Street campus in 2011, compared to 21 in 2010. A spokesman for university said: "Safety is our utmost priority and we take seriously any threat to students and their property. We have been encouraging students to report incidents to the police."

Leader of the EDL charged with fraud

BY LAUREN ARCHELL
lauren.archell@lutononsunday.co.uk

THE leader of the English Defence League has been charged with mortgage fraud. EDL chief Stephen Lennon, also known as Tommy Robinson, is currently on remand at HMP Wandsworth for allegedly entering the United States illegally in September. A Bedfordshire Police spokesman said he was one of six charged in connection with a fraud investigation. Mr Lennon, 30, faces three counts of conspiracy to commit fraud by false representation in relation to a mortgage application. The five others arrested as part of the investigation into alleged fraud were:

- Stephen Vowles, 24, of Heron Drive, Luton, who was charged with two counts of fraud, two counts of false accounting, money laundering, intent to supply Class A drugs and being concerned in the supply of class A drugs to another
- Neil Goodwin, 28, of Chalkdown, Luton, who was charged with possession of criminal property

- Anjee Darcy, 30, of Hardwick Green, Luton, who was charged with two counts of conspiracy to commit fraud and false accounting
- Lisa Moore, 26, of Newbury Close, Silsoe, who was charged with conspiracy to commit fraud and false accounting
- Elliott Gale, 28, of Anglian Close, Watford, who was charged with money laundering
All six defendants will appear before St Albans Magistrates' Court on Friday..

Comet workers lose jobs as branch is forced to close AROUND 20 jobs have been lost after an electrical goods store was chosen to close.

Comet went into administration at the beginning of November, with the branch in Gypsy Lane being one of the first to permanently shut its doors.

The jobs of 15 workers at the Dunstable store in the White Lion Retail Park still remain at risk, after administrators revealed that a further 125 stores will be closing over the coming weeks.

Chris Farrington, joint administrator, said: "We remain in discussions with a small number of interested parties and hope that a positive outcome can be achieved. Should any acceptable offers be received we will delay the closure process. "Unfortunately, in the absence of a firm offer for the whole of the business, it has become necessary to begin making plans in case a sale is not concluded."

Figures reveal quality of council schooling

BY CARL MUNGAZI

carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

PARENTS in the town have a 62 per cent chance of their children attending a good or outstanding primary school, a report has revealed.

Ofsted, the education watchdog, released its annual report this week in which it detailed the findings of inspections of schools in the 150 local authorities in England.

The document is based on Ofsted's inspection judgements of schools in all 150 local authorities in England.

In the report, Luton Borough

Council is listed in the bottom half of local authorities in the country in its provision of good or outstanding primary schools to children in the town.

Neighbouring authority Bedford had a percentage of 85 per cent while Central Bedfordshire was ranked as having 83 per cent.

After the report was published on Tuesday, Sir Michael Wilshaw, Ofsted's chief inspector, said of the judgements generally: "The inequities for local children are stark. This is completely unacceptable."

He added: "We need to find out what is happening, and inspect where necessary.

"We will also work with local areas to support them and help them link up with best practice."

A spokeswoman for Luton Council said: "All schools in Luton are sharply focused on improvement, and all have strategies in place to achieve an outstanding judgement by Ofsted."

"Pupils receive a range of provision to meet their individual needs in classrooms and when they are withdrawn for one to one tuition. The full report by Her Majesty's Chief Inspector has yet to be digested; however, Luton is in a position to meet the challenges contained within."

Blast for new PCC

SIR – I agree with Terry Young that it is astonishing the Labour candidate Olly Martins, our newly elected Police and Crime Commissioner, should say in his acceptance speech that 8,675 people (who voted for Kevin Carroll) are nasty and should crawl back into the hole that they came from.

It is little wonder that the public have lost confidence in the three main parties whose wealthy leaders are all career politicians and seem out of touch with the daily lives of most of the people.

David Cameron once called UKIP a bunch of fruit cakes, loonies and closet racists.

The Labour Party not only shamefully encourages mass immigration but also promoted multiculturalism while ignoring Islamic extremists spreading terror and hatred against this country.

At the bus stop in the town centre, an elderly lady recently remarked to me that she felt she was living in a foreign country.

She could easily have been one of those 8,675 who Olly Martins despises so much.

Surely it is the role of the Police and Crime Commissioner to do his job without any political prejudice, but sadly Olly Martins deplorable, childish behaviour must raise grave questions about his suitability to do this very important job.

He should resign.
Mrs P Bree
West Hill Road, Luton

Backbone needed

SIR – WATCHING Remembrance Sunday on the television and seeing the soldiers and sailors marching along some in wheelchairs really brought home what these men and women went through.

Regarding the Abu Qatada saga, do you think he would have said: "We have to go with the legal side of the problem?"

I don't think so.
The people who died in two World Wars and the latest conflicts must be turning in their graves.

Get this man on the first plane to Jordan – what would these so-called Euro judges do?

Why don't David Cameron and Theresa May get a bit of backbone? It's lucky these people weren't running this country, during the First World War.

If they had, there wouldn't have been a second.

Nadine should resign

SIR – ONE could think that Luton has made unfortunate choices for members of Parliament, and I must add my thoughts regarding Nadine Dorries.

MPs are well paid for their ser-

Low PCC vote turnout criticised

SIR – Commissioner elections happened all over the country, with turnout only around 15 per cent.

Well, this says it all about the usefulness of these elections both for the democratic process most of us believe in, and how much damage has been done through the negativity it has produced in the society at large.

These elections had never been supported by people of this country.

The Government knew all along that this was an idea which has never caught up with the British public.

This as they say is a listening coalition. They should have desisted from creating this extra layer of bureaucracy around one power.

Without public approval it will be difficult for the Commissioners to deliver on the job and that is bound to create all kinds of problems for the society, which is not a positive development in any form. We will need to deal with a police force which will be controlled by a 'politician' of one kind or another.

This registration has disturbed, for the worse, the otherwise fairly steady fabric of the society at large.

It is a massive muddle and changing a long well respected democratic practice has evidently not been approved by the people.

There will be breakdowns, massive cock-ups and jobs for the boys in situations in not-too-

Claim'.
We were also behind the original proposal to develop a community activity centre on the Coulters site, which, after years of opposition (we had to force a referendum to save the project) has now opened up for business and is filling up with tenants as I write and will soon generate tens of thousands of pounds every year for reinvestment into Marsh Farm.

More recently, MFO volunteers restored Marsh House community centre after it almost collapsed from dry rot.

Voluntary labour was officially valued at £105,000 and we now have planning consent to turn it into a cafe/restaurant, history rooms and music studio, again with any profits recycled.

Oh, and the next Leviticus Rave is at UK Centre for Carnival Arts on New Year's Eve... see you all there.
One Love.

WINNER: Olly Martins after winning the PCC election at last month's count

But they have no qualms about wasting £500,000 on providing pop concerts, employing expensive consultants (although they promised an end to the use of consultants), paying (through the council's Luton Airport company) an unnecessary corporation tax bill and facing a substantial, unfunded overspend on the new guided busway project.

Of course, Labour blames the cuts on the coalition Government, but takes no responsibility for the 'Spend and Borrow' behaviour of their Labour Government which promised an end to 'Boom and Bust' and delivered 'Bust'.

Misleading headline

SIR – HO Ho Ho. I am appalled at the misleading headline, on the article by Lauren Archell, that roadworks are coming to an end in Houghton Regis.

Ignoring the fact that it then goes on to state that they are to restart in January, the truth is that the road works, to exchange traffic lights for a roundabout at the junction of High Street and Bedford Road, just might mean that the speed of traffic flow could be increased, so the authorities will sadiistically put in permanent obstructions to ensure that it does not become a permanent improvement.

I was somewhat amused that the map in the 'Focus on Dunstable and Houghton Regis' in the centrefold does not even mention the misguided busway.

Council's cash waste

SIR – YOUR headline (LoS November 25) refers, quite properly, to the 'brutal' cuts proposed to Luton Borough Council services in Luton.

Because this Labour-run council has no pride in this town or the environment and facilities provided for the people who live and work here, they propose swingeing cuts to frontline services which directly impact on people's lives.

Your comments on the stories on our website this week:

Council cuts

@jimmythegooner: Yes, the cuts will affect everyone, but under Labour we massively overspent. Cuts are needed to reduce the deficit.

@_vix_x: Luton Borough Council should not have wasted all that money on the busway and paying silly money to consultants.

@andyc_128: Are councillors expenses being reviewed? One area of spending that never seems to be cut.

@LutonianDan: People need to remember the council has had its funding cut by Government. Protecting the most vulnerable is key.

@shortyhels: Shame they have spent stupid money on the busway that noone seems to want. Maybe then they wouldn't need to cut the school travel budget.

@collyeates: Love Luton! But make it a dump by cutting essential environmental health services. It's back office services and the Economic Development empire that needs cutting back.

@Pat003: I'd rather have fortnightly bin collections than a lot of the cuts being mentioned.

@LutonEye: Reducing any of the services would have massive quality of life impact for residents.

@RouterST: Should budgets for libraries, museums and the arts be cut further? There have already been significant cuts.

@JohnEJefferson: Just an idea. If we legalised drugs the taxes raised would fund all public services and reduce crime. Simple!

School bus cuts

@JamesWebber: Thank God I'm not there anymore

@ScepticLetters: Did Cardinal Newman headteacher mention anything about why it's okay for Catholic children to get passes, while everyone else goes without?

New casino?

@collyeates: No, Luton does not need another casino. It has enough already and a surfeit of betting shops too.

THIS week a distressing tale was reported of a road rage driver who launched a horrifying attack on a blind man who he thought was taking too long to cross the road.

If only such temper and bad behaviour on our roads was a rarity.

Whether it be the pace of life, the state of our roads or simply the pressure of modern life, I am not sure.

What I am sure about is it is getting worse and is becoming the norm not the exception.

The present Mrs Lowe currently travels home on the A600 each evening. For those that know it, the road is not terribly good and there are few places to overtake.

On Tuesday evening, when it was dark and pouring with rain, she took it steady, at between 40 and 50 miles per hour, as it was not safe to speed.

As a consequence, she had cars behind her flashing their lights and honking their horns, in their desperation to get past.

Driving safely is for wimps seemed to be the message. Where we live there are a couple of junctions with traffic lights. Each and every morning cars block the junctions. So it is not possible to get out, even when the lights are green.

It is not as if it even gets them far but blocking the traffic has become endemic.

I am not saying there was a

Selfish driving is a sign of the times

misty-eyed past when drivers were all politeness and 'after you sir'.

But this current rudeness makes driving unpleasant, particularly for those who might lack a little confidence.

And it is an English trait. I have driven in many countries, including both Northern Ireland and Barbados this year.

The drivers are friendly, helpful and courteous, something the English used to be renowned for. Not any more, sadly.

INCIDENTALLY, when in Barbados, we thought we had better check Government policy on speeding, drink driving and the like. On their website it said there was no drink-driving law but that the Government did advise that anyone driving should not drink more than four beers an hour.

WHEN this Government decided to dramatically increase tuition fees – remember that one Lib Dem? – I said that not only was it unfair, it would be counter-productive, as it would put off many young people who should go to university but were worried about the cost of the debt. Now, universities and the Government are very worried because of the dramatic fall of young people applying.

Now they are considering offering cheaper fees to attract more students. That seems like a good idea. An even better idea would have been for them to do some research and analysis before making such laws.

While on the subject of we the people being treated by idiots, does anyone remember what water companies were saying earlier this year?

As they imposed droughts across Southern England, we were told that the water levels were so low that even three years of heavy rain may not be enough to bring them back to a satisfactory level. For six months, not three years, we have endured heavy rain and are now being told that the ground is so saturated that even light rain could lead to flooding.

If you're dining out this Christmas, look before you book and win a £25 Mall voucher.

Ever wondered what goes on behind the counter in your favourite local take away? Do the cooks wash their hands? Are the fridges working? Is the food cooked safely? Where are the best places to eat? The people who know are the Council's food safety officers.

We've had a busy year checking hygiene standards in restaurants, cafes and takeaways across town. We always turn up without warning to find out exactly what is going on in the kitchen, and to ensure the food you are served is safe to eat.

We have now joined the National Food Hygiene Ratings Scheme run by the Food Standards Agency (which has replaced the 'Scores on the Doors' scheme we used to run).

Once we have inspected a business, it is awarded a rating ranging from zero (urgent improvement necessary) to five (very good). Each business receives a certificate to show what rating it was awarded, and encouraged to display it for customers to see.

All the ratings are available on the Food Standards Agency website www.food.gov.uk/ratings

It's really easy to check – go to the website and click on 'find your area' and in the eastern counties you will be able to follow the links to Luton. You can then search by name of business, and by street or postcode.

The scheme is run by almost all UK counties, so you will be able to check on restaurants outside Luton too. You can also download a free smartphone app from Google Play (food.gov.uk/app-android) or iTunes (food.gov.uk/app-itunes) to check the scores while you are on the move.

To get you started and help you find your way around the website, we are running a competition. To find the answers to the three questions below you will need to visit www.food.gov.uk/ratings

- Q1 What is the highest rating awarded to a business on Birdsfoot Lane?
- Q2 What rating does Wigmore Fish Restaurant have?
- Q3 What rating does the business at 56 Wellington Street have?

Email your answers to sara.hawkes@luton.gov.uk by Friday 21 December. A correct entry will be picked at random and the winner will receive a £25 Mall voucher.

Young councillor in deputy PCC role

BY CARL MUNGAZI
editor@lutononsunday.co.uk

BEDFORDSHIRE'S first ever Police and Crime Commissioner Ollie Martins has chosen a young councillor and a senior civil servant to help him fulfil his new role.

Mr Martins is proposing to appoint Luton Councillor Tafheen Sharif, who was named 2012 Young Councillor of the Year, as his deputy and Home Office civil servant Simon Bullock as his assistant.

Cllr Sharif is a Labour representative for the Dallow ward on Luton Borough Council and a lawyer by profession.

She will be working four days a week to support the Commissioner deliver his manifesto pledges, while Assistant Commissioner Bullock will be drawing on his past experience of implementing new legislation across England and Wales.

Cllr Sharif said: "I am honoured to have been asked to be the Police Commissioner's Deputy.

"This an opportunity to make a bigger difference and strengthen links between the people of Bedfordshire.

"I will do my very best and represent the many diverse communities and support the commissioner with my experiences, hard work and determination."

Speaking after the announcement on Wednesday, Mr Martins said: "Tafheen was previously an executive member for Community Safety, bringing exactly the kind of in-depth knowledge that will be a great asset to the team as we address the wider issues of crime, disorder, community safety and partnership working.

"Similarly, Simon's expertise, experience and connections will be invaluable as we set to work across the county.

"I am absolutely delighted to have two people of such high calibre at my side.

"They will help me

strengthen the links between the people of Bedfordshire and the police, increasing my capacity to reach out to the whole of the county and our diverse communities.

"This is, I firmly believe, a great step forward in our determination to make Bedfordshire a safer place to live and work."

Mr Martins also reaffirmed his pledge to keep costs down. He said: "Despite the undoubted benefits that Simon and Tafheen will bring, I am committed to ensuring that my Office will cost less than the police authority's tenure.

"In line with true public-spirited service, my deputy and assistant will not be taking any increase for their new jobs.

"They have chosen, instead, to remain on their current salaries."

Mr Martins was the Labour Party candidate to win the first ever PCC elections last month.

Sea Cadets in bid

THE Sea Cadets and Royal Marine Cadets have had a unit in Luton for more than 40 years. LAUREN ARCHELL speaks to branch chairman Mike Simpkins.

SAILING, seamanship and drill training.

Three exciting and challenging activities that many people in the area don't have access to - unless you are a Sea Cadet.

Luton has been the proud owner of a local unit for more than 40 years and are now looking for a new generation to join them.

The unit, which comprises of a Sea Cadet, Royal Marines Cadet and Junior Sea Cadet sections, are first and foremost a youth organisation based on the traditions of the Royal Navy and Royal Marines.

To this end, the Sea Cadets gives members the opportunity to take part in a wide range of activities, including paddlesport, sailing, shooting, adventure training, seamanship, drill, Duke of Edinburgh and marine engineering, many with the option of gaining nationally recognised qualifications with the likes of the British Canoe Union and Royal Yachting Association.

EXPERIENCE: The Royal Marines from Luton take part in a training session

Despite the fun, the cadets are a disciplined organisation, with all members expected to adhere to a code of conduct and uniform standards.

Most recently, all cadets turned out to take part in the annual Remembrance Day Parade throughout Luton, to remember those who have fallen and those who are serving their country to this day.

Cadets from the area were also involved in the national celebrations for the Queen's Diamond Jubilee, with members taking part in the procession along the Thames.

With all this to offer, Luton Sea Cadets chairman Mike Simpkins is trying to encourage more young people to join them.

PROUD: Sea Cadets taking part in last month's Remembrance Day Parade

He said: "I was a Sea Cadet when I was younger, as was my son."

"I've seen first hand what benefit joining a close unit like this can have."

"We are open to both boys and girls aged between ten and 18, regardless of background."

"We aim to give all local people who wish to join us the chance to take part in these outward bound activities and experience things that they might not have access to otherwise."

"At a time when young people might be tempted to stay indoors, we want to show how important it is to get out and give these things a try."

"In addition, our naval traditions give our young people a whole range of skills that will set them in good stead for civilian or military life."

The unit has recently received a number of grants, which will be used to improve the building and offer a wider range of services.

Mr Simkins said: "Education is a huge part of what we do, so we have recently installed an IT suite."

"But we will need help with other projects that we have lined up to improve our facilities, and as a result we are also looking to recruit a range of support staff, including volunteer instructors, a secretary and treasurer and members for the committee."

"We are seeking the support of local people."

"Of particular interest would be ex-service people, business people, builders or those who are interested in working with young people either directly, as or simply by helping out by providing their skills."

"It's all about giving what time you can to doing something extremely worthwhile for young people."

Luton Sea Cadets is based in Lower Harpenden Road, and runs three sections including Junior Sea Cadets for ten-12 year-olds, the Sea Cadets for 12-18-year-olds, and the Royal Marine Cadets for 13-18-year-olds. Pizza chef scoops top national prize with his creation

A CHEF has won a prestigious national award for pizza making.

Robi Miah, 29, who owns Pizza Roma in Hitchin Road, Luton, wowed the National Pizza Chef of the Year 2102 judges with his innovative 'Casablanca' dish which had to include a number of surprise ingredients. An architect by day, Mr Miah started the business just over a year ago after being affected by the economic downturn.

After receiving his award, Mr Miah said: "To win is overwhelming, especially as I was up against so many older chefs who have spent years perfecting their craft. We were told that one of the ingredients would be harissa paste, which tastes awful, so I really did my research into which flavours would compliment it on a pizza. It's nice to have some national recognition and hope it means that we can build the success of the company."

Arsonist attacked out of 'frustration'

BY LAUREN ARCHELL

lauren.archell@lutononsunday.co.uk

A MAN set fire to a property using stolen fuel after being thrown out of a pub.

Luton Magistrates' Court heard that Andrew Goodes, 27, of Wellington Street, Luton, had been drinking in The Park pub in Park Street, but was ejected after vomiting in the toilet.

He claims that as he was removed from the premises the bouncers were abusive, ridiculed him, and stole his phone.

Goodes then made his way to a petrol station on Castle Street, where he bought a fuel can and a lighter, before filling the container with £2.94 of diesel and making off without paying.

He then returned to Park Street, where he used the fuel and lighter to set alight to a property near to the pub.

CCTV operators saw the blaze and both police and fire services were called to the scene. Goodes was still there where he was arrested, telling officers: "I done it, I'm not going to lie."

Damage to fence panels, gateposts, and support struts was valued at £475.

Defence solicitor Jimmy Killen said: "Mr Goodes is a man with learning difficulties and attended a special needs school when he was younger.

"In relation to the offence, he was ridiculed by a couple of bouncers who stole his phone, which was later recovered.

"But this was not a revenge attack as the property that was damaged does not relate to the property where the incident occurred.

"It was sheer frustration, which he vented by setting fire to this particular property.

"He says that he doesn't know what was going through his mind at the time."

Magistrates adjourned the case until December 21.

A CELEBRATION of the very best of Luton took place at the Luton Hoo Hotel on Thursday.

The Luton's Best Awards 2012 recognised the unsung heroes and achievers of 2012 who live or work in the town.

Organised by the Luton Forum and supported by Luton Borough Council the non-profit making event was run at no cost to the town thanks to local sponsors who gave their financial support.

The evening was also an opportunity to celebrate impact that the London 2012 Olympic Games has had both locally and nationally.

The host was TV presenter and former Tennis Olympian Andrew Castle who also commented on the games.

The guest speaker was Bedford's Kayaking Gold medalist Etienne Stott.

A total of 17 awards were handed out to people from all walks of life, age groups and cultures.

TV star turns musician after penning his debut single

ONE of the town's famous sons will be adding another string to his bow when he releases his first single next month.

Neil Jackson, previously of Turnpike Drive, Luton, but now based in Los Angeles, is releasing 'Holding a Candle' tomorrow.

Mr Jackson has recently finished filming a new drama for ITV called Lightfields and his new single is from his debut album 'The Little Things' which is out next year.

The former boxer spent the last six months writing material for his album in between acting jobs.

He said: "Music has always been a part of me.

"I used to sing in bands when I was younger and I have played the guitar for long time.

"I am a storyteller at heart - I have had two feature films produced - and everything on my album is about stuff that has happened to me personally."

Rugby star inspires pupils to be healthy

BY LUKE PETERSON
 editor@lutononsunday.co.uk

A PROFESSIONAL rugby player has spent time visiting primary schools to get children interested in playing more sport.

Northampton Saints star Tom May held an assembly at Farley Junior School to promote 'The Co-operative Active Culture Programme', a six-week programme to teach children about the benefits of having a healthy lifestyle.

The Co-operative programme, which is also funded by Proctor and Gamble, is likely to expand further across the country after visiting Luton and will initially visit 200 schools.

Speaking after the event, Mr May said: "It's quite interesting how The Co-operative are doing it in terms of speaking to different sports people. A lot of these similar type schemes would just contact a footballer. A lot of the kids are doing rugby whether it be in school or on a weekend.

"This is one of those areas where there are stacks of clubs. If you turn up on a Sunday morning, some of the clubs will have 300 or 400 kids running around."

"At a certain age, they do tag [rugby]; they don't do contact which is quite good in terms of integrating the girls and perhaps for those parents who might think it's going to lead to injuries."

A number of Farley Junior School's pupils were evidently interested in both playing sport and taking part in the programme.

Campaign Manager Barry Williams said: "We're basically looking to roll the programme out over the next six months."

Following the visit of May, Northampton teammate and England international Lee Dickson will now provide Luton's children with a number of classes based around the programme.

Details of our next Drop in Fostering Event please contact Jacqui Clark on 07932 651496

Every child who comes into foster care is different.

There is no 'typical' child we place. Many have faced extreme difficulties. Some are from minority ethnic populations. Some have a range of special needs or display challenging behaviour. Some are in sibling groups which need to stay together wherever possible. All are looking for safe, caring homes with people like you.

From drivers to café workers to engineers, we help all sorts of people become foster carers, supporting them to transform the lives of the most vulnerable and neglected children and young people.

Fostering myths busted!

With over a quarter of people considering fostering, but almost 60 per cent mistakenly thinking they're not eligible, we want to bust the myths and tackle the many reasons people don't come forward:

- ▶ I don't think I'm the right age
- ▶ I'm male
- ▶ I'm gay
- ▶ I don't own my own home
- ▶ I don't have any children
- ▶ I'm single
- ▶ I haven't worked with children or young people
- ▶ I don't think they recruit carers from my ethnicity
- ▶ I can't afford to give up work
- ▶ 24-hour support

Why choose Action for Children?

We value our foster carers very highly. Our friendly team will support you, so you can support young people to grow with hope and confidence. We are an experienced UK children's charity who put children at the centre of everything we do. We offer:

- ▶ 24-hour support
- ▶ continuous training and development
- ▶ careful matching
- ▶ regular paid breaks when you need them
- ▶ competitive allowances and fees
- ▶ support groups and social events

Children and young people in your area need foster homes

Could you give children and young people the care and support they need to thrive? If you can offer a safe and caring home, we'll give you excellent training, competitive fees (up to £420 per week), regular planned breaks and 24-hour support. We want to hear from you!

Trading students make profit in market stall selling

COLLEGE students swapped the classroom for market stalls as part of a work experience initiative that saw them rake in £2,157.05 over two days of trading.

The budding entrepreneurs came from Luton Sixth Form College and from Denbigh High School to take part in the annual market stalls events last week for people on the BTEC enterprise and entrepreneurship course.

They were given pitches at The Mall Market by Town & Country Markets and a donation from businessman Mohammed Nadeem.

The task they were set was to invest in stock and return a profit.

Some of the items on sale by the students included perfume, fake tan, flowers and Henna tattoos.

Shazam Mahmood, a teacher at the college, said: "The event was an enormous success with students doubling the money invested in them."

Illegal immigrant care worker is spared jail

BY JULIA SUTTON
editor@lutononsunday.co.uk

A WOMAN who illegally worked in a care home for the elderly has escaped going to prison.

Sekai Mashingaidze, of Downs Road, Luton, was an overstayer in the UK after an asylum bid had been turned down.

But she was able to produce a forged letter purporting to be from the Home Office stating she had permission to work here. As a result, Mashingaidze was able to get work caring for old folk at the care home called Rosebery House in Rosebery Avenue, Harpenden.

But on Thursday at Luton Crown

Court Judge Richard Foster showed her mercy when he passed a suspended prison sentence. Sentencing her to six months suspended for a year the judge told her she had worked hard at the care home for five years and during that time had paid tax and National Insurance.

Mashingaidze from Zimbabwe pleaded guilty to possessing a false identity document with intent, obtaining a pecuniary advantage by deception and fraud.

The court heard she had come to the UK in 2002. She entered the country lawfully and was entitled to stay here six months. She then applied for asylum but was eventually turned down. Mashingaidze remained in this country but her status meant she could not work. However said Erin Haupt, defending, she didn't want to be a burden but to pay her own way and decided to seek work. In 2006 she made contact with the care home and after producing the forged letter, got a job caring for old folk.

Miss Haupt said: "She came to the UK intending to bring her children over and raise them here. She regrets what she has done. She didn't want to rely on the charity of others. She wanted to earn a living."

FASCINATING AIDA

The Alban Arena, St Albans
Tonight, 7.30pm

SINCE forming in 1983, the group behind Fascinating Aida have won awards and nomination for the work.

Led by Dillie Keane, who studied music at Trinity College, Dublin, and acting at LAMDA, the original trio of Keane, Marilyn Cutts and Lizzie Richardson started by performing in a West End wine bar before doing their first live show in that year.

Over time the line-up has changed but this has not stopped the Fascinating Aida continuing their latest tour which has seen the group receive three Olivier Award nominated and gain international recognition.

Adèle Anderson joined in 1984 and since then has partnered with Keane in writing the group's material.

In the past they have written songs for television programmes such as Stop the Week and People Like Us, as well as featuring in BBC documentaries.

One of their most famous hits is 'Cheap Flights', a song about budget travel which attracted more than eight million YouTube hits.

And Fascinating Aida will be performing this hit tonight, as well as some of their new material.

There will be some new songs for the audience to enjoy.

Tickets for the show cost £19.50 and you can book by calling the box office on 01727 844488.

Photographs of post-war Luton at new gallery

EXHIBITION

'LUTON OVERLAY'

Departure Lounge Gallery, Luton
Open now until Saturday, March 2, 2013

JAMES Smith's touring exhibition 'London Overspill' touches down at Departure Lounge with 'Luton Overlay' – a photographic interpretation of Luton's post-war built environment.

'Luton Overlay' is part of 'London Overspill' a touring exhibition organised by the University of Hertfordshire Galleries (UH Galleries) that will continue to Stevenage and Peterborough in 2013 and compile a comprehensive survey of the region's post war architectural typologies.

Smith is a recent graduate of the Royal College of Art and he has an encyclopaedic photographic knowledge of the remarkably varied building styles and materials, which are a defining architectural characteristic of much of post-war urban Britain.

His fascination with the urban landscape of the past caused him to single out Luton as he wanted to see how today's residents fit in to and use the cityscape.

Smith's work picks out the town's often unnoticed or unseen architectural details producing a panorama which is at turns angular, elegant and even sculptural.

He was commissioned by the Departure Lounge and UH Galleries to closely observe and photograph the town over recent months, with a view of producing a picture which will be unfamiliar even to people who have lived in the town all their lives.

Post-war modernist architecture was originally 'imported' to the UK by European architects escaping tyranny and war on the continent.

Admission to the exhibition is free and you can arrange an appointment or visit during 2pm-6pm on Thursday and Friday, or between 1pm-6pm on Saturday.

You can find out more information by visiting www.departure-lounge.co.uk or www.j-smith.co.uk

Davies out to make you laugh until your sides hurt

COMEDY

ALAN DAVIES - LIFE IS PAIN

The Alban Arena, St Albans
Friday and Saturday, 8pm

AFTER more than a decade since his last stand-up show and following a tour of Australia in 2011, Alan Davies, the star of television programs such as Jonathan Creek and QI, makes his return to live stand-up this autumn.

During the show Davies will showcase his brand of surreal observational storytelling.

He has been performing stand-up comedy since 1988 and after just two years he was named he was named Time Out's Best Young Comic in 1991.

Davies then continued touring and performing in the UK and Australia before winning the Edinburgh Festival Critics Award for Comedy in 1994.

In recent times the comic has been a permanent panellist on the BBC quiz game QI, which is hosted by Stephen Fry and he appeared in Jonathan Creek as trick-deviser for a stage magician with a side interest in solving crimes.

Tickets for the show cost £27.50 and you can book by calling 01727 844488.

Poems for all

POETRY

PEACE, LOVE & POTATOES

Luton Central Library, Luton
Thursday, 7.30pm

JOHN Hegley will be reading from his new collection of poems at a special public performance at Luton Central Library.

The evening will be an opportunity to have a live, up-close experience of Hegley's internationally-renowned poetry, music and comedy.

Plus, those looking for a unique Christmas gift can have a copy of his new book signed by the man himself.

Hegley, who worked at the library in his youth, will also be at the library on Thursday, working on poetry with children from two local schools.

He is a regular feature at The Edinburgh Festival, and he has presented his own shows on BBC Radio 4.

Tickets for the event are £5 and you can book by calling 01582 547474 or visiting www.lutonculture.com

Angel shows the way out

STARRING James Stewart, Donna Reed and Lionel Barrymore, It's A Wonderful Life (PG) is a story about an angel who helps a frustrated businessman (George Bailey) by showing him what life is like if he never existed.

Bailey has spent his entire life giving up his big dreams for the good of his town.

But in the present, on Christmas Eve, he is broken and suicidal over the misplacing of an $8,000 loan and the plans of an evil millionaire.

Bailey's guardian angel, Clarence, falls to Earth, literally, and shows him how his town, family, and friends would turn out if he had never been born.

He finally sees how much he meant to so many people so should he really throw it all away?

Tickets cost £6 standard, with concessions at £4. You can book by calling the box office on 01582 602080 or visiting www.grovetheatre.co.uk

CHOICE

Katherine Jenkins

Steppin' Out with Katherine Jenkins ITV1, 9pm

We're told this special one-off featuring the Welsh mezzo-soprano is going to be a showcase of 'spectacular song and dance routines in an evening of glitz and glamour.' Apparently, its producers are stopping at nothing to recreate the old-style, 1940s Hollywood look, with a series of guests they hope will be able to emulate the era. Among those taking part are award-winning quartet Il Divo, girl band Stoochee, Britain's Got Talent finalists Only Boys Aloud and former Strictly Come Dancing champion Tom Chambers.

SEN Support Worker - Pre-School

£18,453 - £20,198 per annum pro rata
Term-time only, 9.00am - 4.00pm
Temporary until 31 March 2013

You will contribute to the process of identifying and assessing the special educational needs of pre-statutory school aged children 0 - 5 years, working closely with parents, professionals and providers to ensure that the children achieve their potential.

Demonstrable experience of working with very young children within the Foundation Stage including some experience of working with young children with SEN is essential along with NVQ Level 3 in child care or equivalent. You must be able to communicate effectively and sensitively with parents, carers, children and other professionals as well as being able to write accurate reports and file notes using appropriate IT.

If you are interested in joining this friendly, supportive team, please contact Tracy Spence, Senior Advisory Teacher on 01582 548173 or Matthew Sims, Team Leader on 01582 548113.

It is possible that this position may be made permanent, should funding become available.

Closing date: 6 December 2012.

Ref: 12/0543

Sponsorship and Advertising Assistant (Sales)

£18,453 - £20,198 per annum pro rata
22.5 hours per week
Fixed-term until 29 March 2013

The purpose of this post is to exceed revenue targets for a number of council initiatives and events through advertising and sponsorship. You will be expected to achieve this by making direct sales/approaches to clients and identifying and developing further opportunities for increased revenue generation.

Experience of developing sponsorship proposals to achieve client's aims is essential along with knowledge of sponsorship processes and the ability to develop long-term new and existing business relations. You will be required to research potential sponsors/advertisers, maintain client databases and manage booking processes for advertising opportunities. You will also be required to use excel to produce profit and loss spreadsheets and present data.

Closing date: 9 December 2012.

Ref: 12/0575

Apply now online at www.luton.gov.uk/jobs if you experience problems applying online, please call (01582) 546621 during office hours.
Please quote appropriate reference number.

Emergency Care Assistants

£16,110 - £19,077 per annum

Post attracts 17% to 25% unsocial hours allowance – depending on rota.

East of England Ambulance Service

NHS Trust

We attend over 700,000 emergency calls and transport around 1.5 million patients to routine hospital appointments each year. That's why as an Emergency Care Assistant no two days will be the same.

Naturally caring and level-headed, you'll instil trust, and provide a calming presence in whatever situation you find yourself in - from helping patients get to hospital to assisting in emergency situations.

Whilst you won't need a medical background, a full C1 on your driving licence (manual vehicle) is required, however, a provisional C1 at the time of application will be considered.

Because we want to be there for our patients, whatever time of day or night they need us, you'll be required to work flexibly on shifts that are 365 days a year, 7 days a week, 24 hours a day.

For a truly rewarding role in our team, visit www.jobs.nhs.uk

Closing date: 13th January 2013.

During your 8 week training course the salary will be paid according to Annex U of Agenda for Change which will be £14,037 per annum.

We aim to represent and value the diversity of our local communities through our workforce and service provision. We therefore positively encourage applications, regardless of age, race, religion or belief, gender, sexual orientation, gender reassignment, marriage and civil partnership, pregnancy and maternity or disability.

Provide first response to the needs of your community.

HIGH EXPECTATIONS, HIGH ACHIEVEMENT & LEARNING FOR LIFE

Stopsley High School

A Specialist Sports College

Headteacher: Karen Johns

INTERVENTION TEACHING ASSISTANTS MATHS & ENGLISH LEVEL 3

Immediate Start

We are looking to appoint Intervention Teaching Assistants for Maths and English for an immediate start. The posts involve supporting students' learning at Key Stage 3 and 4 in small groups or on a one-to-one basis and adapting learning activities to aid their progress.

The posts would suit a Maths or English Graduate to work within the relevant subject department as an Intervention Assistant. This is an ideal opportunity for someone seeking a career in education and wanting to progress to initial teacher training.

Stopsley High School is an 11-16 mixed Comprehensive School and Community College situated in a quiet area on the Hertfordshire / Bedfordshire border. We are a popular, oversubscribed school described by Ofsted in March 2011 as "good with outstanding features where the quality of care, guidance and support is excellent".

If you are interested in applying for either of these posts please feel free to contact the school for an information and application pack. You are also most welcome to visit the school or phone for an informal conversation prior to applying.

To download this advert and an application form go to our website www.stopsleyhighschool.co.uk

CLOSING DATE: 18TH DECEMBER 2012

Telephone: 01582 870900 Stopsley.high.head@luton.gov.uk

CV's will not be accepted. We are committed to safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children. Applicants must be willing to undergo child protection screening appropriate to the post, including checks with past employers and the Criminal Records Bureau.

Exams Manager

£22,941 - £25,002 per annum

37 hours per week, term-time only plus 7 days

We require an Exams Manager to administer and organise the running of all public and internal examinations. Prior experience of the role would be preferential but not essential. Lealands is a community school with specialist Sports College status for 11 - 16 year olds located on the northern edge of Luton, in Sundon Park.

In 2013 our £17m investment to completely transform the learning environment and facilities will be completed. This exciting investment is ensuring that Lealands is fit to deliver an excellent 21st century education. Our facilities are fantastic and we would encourage you to visit and see for yourself. Our students achieve excellent results and make fantastic progress in a welcoming and caring environment. This progress is supported by the hard work and commitment of well qualified staff that set high expectations to enable to succeed.

We passionately believe in the potential of every student and are focused on enabling young people to succeed in an ever demanding world. Our students experience a wide range of engaging, relevant and inspirational learning activities; both in and out of the classroom.

As a school, we strongly believe in partnerships working together in the best interests of all our students. Parents/carers, students, staff, governors, community groups and friends all work together to ensure that the young people in our school enjoy the learning journey and achieve exceptional results.

To apply for this role, visit www.luton.gov.uk/jobs and click Teaching and Schools Vacancies.

REDBORNE

SCHOOL DIRECT INITIAL TEACHER TRAINING (ITT)

Everyone Matters

This exciting new school based programme of Initial Teacher Training is available from September 2013. Places are available to new trainees at our Lead Schools of Redborne Upper and Stratton Upper as well as our partner schools across Central Bedfordshire including All Saints Academy, Cedars Upper, Harlington Upper, Queensbury Academy and Vandyke Upper. Training places are available in the following subjects:

- Mathematics
- Physics
- Chemistry
- Modern Foreign Languages
- English
- Computer Science

Candidates will need to pay a course fee of £9,000 but may be eligible for bursaries and loans, details available on the DfE website.

Successful trainees will be awarded Qualified Teacher Status (QTS) and a PGCE from our training provider, which is the University of Bedfordshire. We welcome applicants who have UK residency, GCSE Mathematics and English (or equivalent) at Grade C or above, and a degree – preferably First Class, Upper Second or Lower Second – in the subject in which the candidate wishes to train to teach, or a closely-related subject.

Closing Date for applications to the first round of interviews is: Thursday 20th December, 2012

Further details for any of the above posts can be found on the Redborne Upper School website (www.redborne.com) or the Stratton Upper School website (www.stratton.beds.sch.uk) as well as the websites of our partner schools. Applications must be made online at the following address and applicants must select either Redborne or Stratton in the school name field.

<http://www.education.gov.uk/get-into-teaching/teacher-training-options/school-based-training/school-direct/applying.aspx>

If you require further information please contact Jon Gunn at Redborne Upper School or Jane Harper at Stratton Upper School.

All offers of a place are "conditional" until Criminal Record Bureau and qualification checks have been successfully completed, satisfactory references have been received and the professional skills tests passed. Our partnership is committed to safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children and young people and expects all staff and volunteers to share this commitment.

GET SMART

If you need to know where the sweet spot in the Toyota Auris range is, you're looking right at it in the shape of the 1.33 Edition.

Unless you're planning to batter the nation's motorways into submission, the diesel models don't stack up on the balance sheet for many buyers and the sportier models don't do a whole lot to convince. Look for value in the Auris range and it's hard to beat the Edition, although I'd haggle hard at the dealership for the inclusion of stability control as standard. With a 1.3-litre engine tasked with punting a fairly large vehicle up the road, the Auris Edition is never going to do a convincing impression of rapid. It'll detain you for 12.8 seconds on the way to 60mph, but fairly long gearing means that it still has the legs for motorway cruising, finally running out of acceleration at a distinctly presentable 109mph. The value proposition looks good, with prices kicking off at just over £15,000 and equipment including 16-inch alloy wheels, air conditioning, front electric windows, a four-speaker MP3-compatible CD stereo with USB connection, remote central locking, a leather-trimmed steering wheel and heated, retractable door mirrors.

The Auris has long been an underrated car, written off as a white good by those who should know better. In truth it's a vehicle that is well finished, well priced and will appeal to those who value reliability and space over handling and gimmickry.

It might be a tough car to get excited about but it earns my undiluted respect

FA CUP SECOND ROUND

LUTON TOWN 2
DORCHESTER TOWN 1

BY LUKE PETERSON

sport@lsmmedia.co.uk

TWO DOWN, one to go. Luton Town won the second part of a three-match trilogy against Dorchester Town yesterday to ensure they are in the hat for the third round draw of the FA Cup.

Goals from Andre Gray and Alex Lawless put Luton in front before Arran Pugh pulled one back for the South-coast side. But Luton were good value for their win, which lands them prize money of £27,500, opens the prospect of drawing a Premier League team in the next round and leaves them full of confidence going into Tuesday's FA Trophy replay with the same opponents.

Luton came into the game with only one win out of the last six – that coming in the previous round of the FA Cup against Nuneaton.

Manager Paul Buckle said his team needed to “come out firing” and they did just that, forcing a number of early corners which the visitors scrambled clear, before Gray, who missed a hatful of chances on Tuesday night, pounced on a loose back pass and laid off for Scott Rendell to curl wide from 25 yards.

Gray said the prospect of successive cup matches “annoys” him but he showed no sign of his frustration in his performance, exciting the crowd with a number of neat flicks and tricks.

The hosts came closest 25 minutes in after a neat interchange between JJ O'Donnell and left back Lathaniel Rowe-Turner, whose driven cross was headed narrowly over by the influential Lawless at the far post.

Five minutes later, however, Gray silenced his doubters by finding his way to the byline and showing great footwork to cut inside and find the near bottom corner to open the scoring.

The goal was no more than the home side deserved and the striker's individual brilliance was the spark Luton needed to further enforce their early dominance.

Gray came close again three minutes before half time with a curled effort which drifted over Jason Matthews' goal, before the lively O'Donnell grazed the far post with a crisp angled drive which left the crowd in awe.

However, despite Luton's comfort and near-misses, they could not create the clear-cut chance they needed to extend their lead.

Luckily for the home side, though, Dean Beckwith and Janos Kovacs remained dominant at the back throughout and were able to

Stockwood Park hammer Hampstead

RUGBY UNION ROUND-UP

BY TIM BARTLETT

sport@lsmmedia.co.uk

STOCKWOOD Park chairman Dave Budge spoke of his optimism for the future following his side's 41-10 demolition of a highly competitive Hampstead team in a friendly game, that served as a useful stage to blood some youngsters into the first XV.

First-half tries from the young debutant Casimir Abaka, and James Peddar, helped the Luton outfit to a 12-5 lead at the interval, with additional converted points added from the boot of Jason Carr.

Budge described both Abaka's and Peddar's runs as “storming”, with winger Abaka making a 40-yard dash to the corner, and Peddar scoring under the posts following a 30-yard run.

Second-half tries from Ben Griffen, Tom Charles, veteran coach Rod Keating and a second score from Peddar opened up a 24-point gap, and all but settled the game, with ten minutes still left on the clock.

Paddy Flaherty, another of the young Stockwood Park debutants, finished the try scoring for the Luton side, finding touch in the left-hand corner.

Peterborough were unavailable to host Luton in the East Midlands Cup so Mark Turner's side were without a game this weekend.

Their attention now turns to next weekend's home game against Bury St Edmunds, who are currently flying high, 11 points clear at the top of London One North having achieved a bonus point for scoring four tries in all of their games this season.

Dunstabians RUFC were also able to enjoy a weekend off as they had a bye through to the next round of the Bedfordshire Cup. They will now prepare for next weekend's away league game against Leighton Buzzard, who currently sit just below them in the league in third place.

day with top goal

prevent any threat of a Dorchester counter-attack to keep the score at 1-0 as the half-time whistle went.

Both defences pushed up at the start of the second period but, once again, it was the home team who looked the more likely to find the space in behind with Rendell and Gray, in particular, linking up well as expected.

Within ten minutes, however, Luton's set-piece problems began to rear their head, demonstrating the problem is not just a result of a lack of concentration from the cup tied Simon Ainge who has been culpable for two of the recent goals the Hatters had conceded from set pieces. The crowd became restless as the visitors caused confusion in the host's box from several corners.

Luton soon put their frailties behind them, at least for now, and reasserted their search for the second goal as Gray and, first, Lawless came close with powerful shots from the right-hand side. The game was forced into a stoppage after a suspected broken nose for centre back Beckwith but, despite the break, Luton pushed on and Lawless was given a second bite of the cherry in the 68th minute as he cleverly found space inside the box and surprisingly beat the keeper with a shot to the far post.

Luton's two-goal cushion did not last long, however, as Pugh tucked home following a neat short corner to create some pressure on the home defence.

That pressure almost told straight away, as number nine Ben Watson ran through to force Mark Tyler into a rare save before the defence were forced to clear from Sam Malsom's far-post strike.

The away side were now on the front foot and brought out another impressive save from Tyler as he palmed away substitute Dan Thompson's volley in stoppage time.

It was a little bit too close for comfort but then

Luton have a habit of not doing things the easy way.

Luton Town: Tyler; Rowe-Turner, Beckwith (Lacey 66) Kovacs, Ronnie Henry; Lawless, Howells, O'Donnell (Mendy 89) Smith; Rendell, Gray (Fleetwood 80).

Dorchester: Matthews; Walker, Martin, Clough, Pugh, Gleeson, Gosling, Nicholls, Watson, Jermyn, Chopereno-Garcia

Andre Gray on the charge

Reynolds up for shot at national title

BOXING

sport@lsmmedia.co.uk

LUTON boxer Jordan Reynolds is relishing the prospect of taking on Kaseem Mahmood in Thursday's National Club for Young People's Championships final but admits he is scared of losing.

Reynolds earned the right to fight Mahmood in Stoke-on-Trent after a last-round semi-final defeat of Welshman Connor Gethin, in front of vehement home support last month and is looking to avenge his defeat in last year's final to Aled Cooke.

"Obviously people hate that losing feeling but I'm really sure it bugs me more," said Reynolds.

"I can't face losing against Mahmood. I'd go as far as to say I'm scared of it."

The youngster has previous with the Coventry Southpaw, having defeated the 17-year-old at the quarter-final stage of the same competition last year but Reynolds is honest in his assessment of their last bout.

"He was the better boxer last time despite my victory," admitted Reynolds.

"It was a 50/50 fight but I came through it. I know more about him now. He's a dangerous fighter.

"I know I'm going to have to be at my best to beat him."

The West Ham fighter was happy with his performance in the semi-final against Gethin and knows with Mahmood's Midlands connections he will be faced with a similar atmosphere on Thursday.

"Everyone was against me but I liked it," said Reynolds.

"He [Gethin] came out with a Welsh flag and his supporters were cheering him on but I did the business. I thrive in the hostile situations. It won't phase me at all."

Reynolds has had a long route to the final and he will head to the England European Finals in January with a spring in his step, continuing his busy schedule.

"I've had six or seven fights in quick succession," claimed Reynolds.

"I've been in the gym all year and hopefully it's all going to pay off now."

"I've come a long way in my short two-year career and I'm ready for the big leagues now. I would love a shot at the Senior Amateur Boxing Championship title in the near future."

Police called to Dunstable Town match

FOOTBALL ROUND-UP

BY JONATHAN PAXTON

sport@lsmmedia.co.uk

DUNSTABLE TOWN'S 5-2 win at Hertford was marred by vandalism of three cars belonging to players and supporters, with windows broken and sundry items stolen.

A car, not connected with the club, was also stolen and a Hertford committee member also had a vehicle vandalised. The attack had occurred during the game and the police were called.

The Blues took the lead through Tony Burnett on 19 minutes but Hertford equalised with a superb long range strike by Sean Stock.

Marvin Samuels gave Hertford the lead on 42 minutes but Jonathan Cooper pulled Town level before the break.

Town retook the lead on 68 minutes, Newman Carney firing home and they extended it on 73 minutes when Wayne Mills combined with Lee Roach to score.

Nathan Frater wrapped up the scoring on 77 minutes for a win which keeps the Blues four points clear at the top of the table ahead of next week's FA Vase game at Enfield.

Barton Rovers came away empty handed from their trip to AFC Hayes in the South Midlands Premier Division, losing 3-1.

Phil Smeaton equalised for Rovers after they conceded an early goal but two more Hayes goals sealed the win and keeps Rovers in 15th place.

AFC Dunstable lost ground at the top of the table as they lost 4-2 at home to play-off rivals Oxhey Jets.

AFC's goals came from new signing Jake Gilbert and James Baldry.

In Division One, Crawley Green showed their scoring prowess again, hammering Wodson Park 5-0, making it 13 goals in their last three games.

Meanwhile, Kent Athletic won the local derby with Totternhoe, 2-1, keeping the pressure on at the top of the Division Two. Pat Daly scored either side of half time.

'We want a cup tie with Premier League team'

GROUP HUG: Luton Town had plenty of reasons to celebrate yesterday

Picture: Gareth Owen

FOOTBALL

BY LUKE PETERSON

sport@lsmmedia.co.uk

LUTON TOWN manager Paul Buckle says he wants to draw a Premier League side in today's FA Cup third-round following the 2-1 win at home to Dorchester yesterday afternoon.

Goals from Andre Gray and Alex Lawless, pictured, gave the hosts a comfortable two-goal cushion before Arran Pugh set up a tense end to the game.

But the Hatters held on to beat the same side that held them to a 2-2 draw in Tuesday night's FA Trophy game on the south-coast.

"[We want] a Premiership club and make the club some money," Buckle said, "We're delighted to be in the third round."

The Hatters dominated for much of the game but only went in one goal up at half time to keep Buckle on his toes during a freezing cold FA Cup afternoon. "We were in control. We should have been more than one goal to the good at half time but that's the FA Cup. In the second half we invited a bit of pressure," Buckle said.

That pressure told in the 70th minute as Dorchester number five Pugh halved Luton's lead to give the away side a chance to turn the game around.

"It was a poor goal [to concede]. That wasn't good enough. It gave them a great lift," Buckle said.

Buckle, however, reserved praise for goalkeeper Mark

Tyler, who produced a number of outstanding saves to prevent Dorchester pulling level during the final stages of the match.

"They had more than a chance. [Tyler made] some great saves. I'm absolutely delighted with that," said the manager.

Gray has expressed his ambivalence towards the successive cup matches, but he did not let it show yesterday. His brilliant opening goal broke the deadlock and landed him the man of the match award.

"He [Gray] is dangerous," Buckle said. "It was a tough one whether I played him or [Stuart] Fleetwood."

"I'm really pleased with the two goals we scored. We had to dig in towards the end but Dorchester found a resilient Luton," Buckle said.

Yet Buckle's side could be three games behind some of their fellow Blue Square Premier rivals by the time Luton play Alfreton Town on December 8.
